ABSTRACT

Based on a 1984 survey of all accredited two-year colleges in the United States and members of the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges (AACJC) in other countries, this directory provides a comprehensive list of the 1,222 community, junior, and technical colleges as well as statistics on enrollment and staffing for each. Following introductory material on the uses of the directory, information is presented on the AACJC; its mission and goals; and its affiliated councils, associates, and board of directors. After explaining how to interpret data, summarizing changes since 1984, and defining key terms, the directory lists each two-year college alphabetically by state or country and provides the following information: location; chief executive officer; telephone number; year college classes began; type of control or affiliation; AACJC membership; state recognition or accrediting agency; type of academic calender; October 1983 and 1984 full- and part-time and total enrollments; community education enrollments in 1983-84; full- and part-time and total faculty, professional staff, and administrators as of October 1984; and tuition and fees required in 1984-85. Next, tables are presented summarizing enrollment and personnel data by state for all institutions, and for public and independent colleges. Lists of community, technical, and junior college organizations and state administrators of two-year college education and an alphabetical listing of colleges conclude the directory. Appendices include the AACJC constitution. (LAL)

INTRODUCTION TO DIRECTORY

The annual Community, Technical, and Junior College Directory is the most authoritative and current publication available today that presents vital statistics about American two-year colleges. It is an invaluable resource for Congress, federal agencies, state education departments, colleges, universities, business and industry, and other organizations interested in the resources available in local two-year colleges.

It may be the most important document that the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges publishes each year. It describes the heart of our institutions: student enrollments (both parttime and fulltime); community education student numbers; faculty numbers (parttime and fulltime); tuition and fees; chief executive officers; and institutional names, addresses, and telephone numbers. The introductory material offers analyses of some of the more significant data collected for the Directory, identifies individual and business members of AACJC, outlines the goals and objectives of the Association, and describes the special councils that are affiliated with the Association and from which it derives some of the grassroots guidance that directs the Association's national efforts. AACJC purposes and activities are also described in the Directory.

No other directory contains precisely the collection of information presented in this Directory. It is one of a kind, produced for community colleges, by the national organization that represents two-year colleges, and by professionals at AACJC who are national advocates for community, technical, and junior colleges.

AACJC Mission and Goals

The mission of the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges is to exert leadership, act as advocate, and provide services in support of community, technical, and junior colleges, as these institutions deliver accessible educational opportunities designed to address the needs of the individuals, organizations, and communities forming their constituencies.

Goal 1

Reaffirm and promote the concept of access as fundamental to the mission of community, technical, and junior colleges.

Goal 2

Assist community, technical, and junior colleges to define, sustain, and promote excellence.

Goal 3

Encourage and strengthen the humanities, arts, and sciences in the community college curriculum.

Goal 4

Provide vigorous national leadership in human and economic resource development.

Goal 5

Promote the growth, acceptance, and practice of continuity in lifespan learning.

Goal 6

Develop vigorous programs of leadership training and professional development at the national level, and assist colleges in their efforts to improve leadership through staff development.

Goal 7

Alert member institutions to trends and issues that present significant opportunities or constraints.

Goal 8

Enhance the understanding, acceptance, and support of the roles and missions of community, technical, and junior colleges by those who work in or attend them, by the general public, and by civic and governmental leaders.

Goal 9

Work with government, foundations, corporations, media, and other decision-making centers to enable community, technical, and junior colleges to provide the training strategies and capabilities necessary to keep America at the forefront of global competition.

Goal 10

Provide vigorous national leadership in assisting colleges to acquire and to integrate new technologies into educational programs and in assisting colleges to apply appropriate technologies to the improvement of instructional delivery systems and internal administrative processes.

Goal 11

Maintain positive working relationships with other institutions and agencies, at local, state, and national levels.

Adopted November 13, 1984
AACJC Board of Directors

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF COMMUNITY AND JUNIOR COLLEGES

The American Association of Community and Junior Colleges, headquartered in Washington, D.C., is the only organization whose sole purpose is to represent the interests of the 1,222 public and private community, technical, and junior colleges of the nation.

The mission of the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges is to exert leadership, act as an advocate, and provide services in support of community, technical, and junior colleges, as these institutions deliver accessible educational opportunities designed to address the needs of the individuals, organizations, and communities forming their constituencies.

Advocacy

One of the most important functions AACJC serves is that of reaching out to governmental decision makers at the national, state, and local levels on behalf of the mission and needs of its member colleges, their staffs, and their students. AACJC has been particularly effective in communicating with federal officials, members of Congress, and other leaders regarding the missions and needs and the value of community, technical, and junior colleges throughout the nation.

In order to speak with "one voice and one agenda," AACJC has joined with the Association of Community College Trustees (ACCT) to form the Joint Commission on Federal Relations. The Joint Commission helps to ensure that the voice of community, technical, and junior colleges is heard clearly and that two-year colleges receive a fair share of federal funding and student financial aid.

Also in cooperation with ACCT, AACJC has undertaken a series of initiatives through "Keeping America Working." This project is establishing closer working relationships between business, industry, labor, government, and colleges. A recent grant from the Sears Foundation will enable AACJC to provide funds to member colleges to encourage partnerships between colleges and businesses in their communities.

The major advantage of AACJC's location in the National Center for Higher Education is that it facilitates the establishment of coalitions with such associations as the American Council on Education, American Association of State Colleges and Universities, National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges, and many other associations representing various sectors of higher education. Through these linkages, AACJC is able to represent the interests of community colleges more effectively.

An important responsibility of AACJC is that of "telling the two-year college story" to the general public by providing information to the media through press releases, public service radio and television announcements, publications, and staff contact.

Leadership

For 65 years college presidents and administrators have relied on the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges for leadership. Founded in 1920 as the American Association of Junior Colleges, the Association's name was changed in 1972 to reflect more accurately its membership. As the newest institutions in all of higher education, community, technical, and junior colleges are not well understood. AACJC has been a leader in bringing the achievements of two-year colleges to the attention of the rest of higher education by developing literature the academic world respects.

Opportunity with Excellence is much more than just the Association's motto. It represents the heart and soul of the two-year college movement in America. These colleges have provided opportunities for millions of students and have offered these students an excellent education. A current AACJC initiative is its efforts to enhance the status and value of the associate degree. Through an 11 point 1985 Public Policy Agenda, the Association will attempt to achieve its goals through an active program of leadership at the national level.

Service

As an association dedicated to helping its member colleges achieve their missions, goals, and objectives, AACJC provides many services.

As the most comprehensive organization in the United States representing community-based postsecondary education, AACJC serves as:

- A means of identifying and giving national recognition to emerging leaders for the future—individuals, institutions, and ideas.
- The only community, technical, and junior college voice for hundreds of national meetings, committees, councils, and commissions.
- A respected reference for appointment recommendations to membership on federal commissions, advisory bodies, and other notable organizations.
- A forum for members' institutional and personal views that will influence the future of education and the nation.
- A singular source of information collected by AACJC and unavailable elsewhere (this Directory, for example).

- A sounding board and clearinghouse for cost-effective, innovative ideas and people.
- A source of technical assistance for member colleges.

Many of these services are provided through a variety of media of communication, such as:

- Annual AACJC Convention and Workshops—to promote the exchange of ideas and information among more than 2,500 delegates from colleges nationwide. During the year, other conferences, workshops, and assemblies offer opportunities for special interest groups to come together, particularly for professional development.
- AACJC Letter—the only national weekly newsletter exclusively for community, technical, and junior colleges. Personally edited by AACJC President Dale Parnell, this award-winning weekly publication is for the busy executive who wants authoritative information in a hurry. Alternate issues of the Letter, entitled Federal Focus, provide current information on legislative issues and federal policies. It is edited by Frank Mensel, AACJC's vice president for federal relations, who monitors bills, attends hearings, develops testimony on pending legislation, analyzes policies that affect community, technical and junior colleges, and publishes details in Federal Focus.
- Community and Junior College Journal—offers readable, worthwhile information about exemplary programs, practices, and people in articles by presidents, administrators, professors, and other experts sharing their best ideas. (*8 issues per year)
- Community, Technical, and Junior College Directory—updated annually, this indispensable source of essential information contains data gathered by AACJC directly from the colleges and other sources. AACJC research analysts are available year-round to answer questions from Association members, news media, and other organizations.
- Directory of Administrators—published in 1984, this reference document contains names of administrative staff at 1,222 accredited two-year colleges. It is an invaluable resource for businesses, governmental agencies, job seekers, and anyone else wanting to contact the right community college person at the right place.
- Special publications—produced with the needs of college executives and staff in mind, these include a series of handy, concise pocket readers, monographs, reports, indicator briefs based on statistical data, legislative and legal briefs, bulletins, and brochures. The new Leadership Bookshelf Series continues to present community college administrators with helpful materials on a variety of topics, including strategic planning, financing, and governance.

In addition, the Association serves as headquarters for a liaison network involving the entire AACJC constituency, which includes:

- Community, technical, and junior college presidents, administrators, and staff.
- State college associations and state administrators.
- Affiliated councils.

Governance

Board of Directors

The Association is governed by a 31-member Board of Directors. The Board meets three times annually, in different parts of the country, to develop and monitor the policy framework within which the AACJC carries out its mission. Standing committees of the Board meet periodically during the year and provide for much of the in-depth work of the Board. Current committees, appointed by the chairman of the Board, are:

- Executive Committee—responsible for personnel matters, finance, and for emergency situations. Judith S. Eaton is chair and Joshua L. Smith is vice chair. Members include the immediate past chair, Harold D. McAninch, and chairs of four standing committees. Association officers who meet with the Executive Committee are Dale Parnell, president and chief executive officer; Bernard J. Luskin, executive vice president and Association treasurer; Connie Sutton-Odems, vice president for professional services and secretary of the Association; James F. Gollattscheck, vice president for communication services and editor-in-chief and Frank Mensel, vice president for federal relations.
- Committee on Federal Relations—responsible for government-related matters in cooperation with the Association of Community College Trustees. R. Jan LeCroy is vice-chair. Members are Kathleen F. Arns, George D. Fields, Jr., Richard K. Greenfield, Yvonne Kennedy, and Edward Liston. Charles Wethington is an ex-officio member, and Frank Mensel from AACJC is staff.
- Committee on Association Vitality and Publications—responsible for long-range planning and publications oversight. Michael E. Crawford is chair. Members are Arthur Cohen, Kay Elledge-Heimer, Charles Green, Raymond E. Joslin, Gordon Stulberg, and James L. Wattenbarger. James F. Gollattscheck from AACJC is staff.
- Committee on Directors and Membership Services—responsible for internal operations of the Board, membership services, and Board nominations. Mary Norman is chair. Members are Carl Crawford, James Kraby, Judith E. Madonia, Donald W. McInnis, Donald Newport, and R. Stephen Nicholson. Harold D. McAninch is an ex officio member, and Bernard J. Luskin from AACJC is staff.
- Committee on Professional Services—responsible for convention program, determining national award winners, and review of council programs and affiliations. Brian L. Donnelly is chair. Members are Raul Cardenas, Rose M. Channing, A. Robert DeHart, Donald G. Phelps, Raymond D. Stone, and Gene A. Whiddon. Connie Sutton-Odems from AACJC is staff.

Board members normally serve terms of three years each, with one-third of the Board elected each year. Eighteen directors are representatives of institutions, elected by the Board; six are representatives of the affiliated councils, elected by the AACJC membership; and one member is the immediate past chairman of the Board, elected by the Board. By constitutional authority, the majority of the Board must be chief executive officers.

Nominations of the institutional representatives are made by the Committee on Directors and Membership Services. While continually open to receive recommendations, the Committee contacts the institutional members in the early fall, seeking recommendations for the following year. The Committee seeks persons capable and willing to bring dedicated and creative leadership to the Association and to the Board. With the recommendations from the field, together with its own experience, the Committee meets in the late fall to develop a slate of multiple nominations. Additional nominations can be made from the field following the Committee's report. The name of any such person, qualified to be a member of the Board, is added to the annual ballot when supported by letters from at least 50 official institutional representatives.

Annual elections, by mail ballot, are conducted no later than April 15 of each year. Each member institution is authorized one ballot to be completed by the official institutional representative.

Further information about the Board of Directors may be obtained from the president or secretary of the Association.

Officers

There are five officers of the Association. The chairman and vice chairman of the Board are elected by the Board of Directors each spring to serve one year—July 1 through June 30. The president of the Association is appointed by the Board to serve for a time designated by the Board. The secretary and treasurer of the Association are designated by the president with the approval of the Board.

Current officers (1984–85) are:

Chairman of the Board of Directors
Judith S. Eaton

Vice Chairman of the Board of Directors
Joshua L. Smith

President and Chief Executive Officer
Dale Parnell

Treasurer and Vice President
Bernard J. Luskin

Secretary and Vice President
Connie Sutton-Odems

Commissions

Three commissions have been created by the Board to provide guidance in specific areas of concern to the Association. Commission members are appointed by the chairman of the Board and normally serve terms of three years.

- The Joint Commission on Federal Relations replaces the former Committee on Governmental Relations. The Joint Commission was formed by AACJC and the Association of Community College Trustees to unify the agenda of the two-year colleges in working with Congress and the federal agencies. Sixteen presidents, trustees, and state executives make up this "grass roots" voice of community colleges on national policy. Commission chairman is Judith E. Madonia, Board Chairman, Lincoln Land Community College, Illinois. R. Jan LeCroy is vice chairman.
- The Commission on Small/Rural Community Colleges, composed of 12 chief executive officers from member institutions, focuses attention on the needs and concerns of small and rural colleges. Robert A. Anderson, Jr., president of New Mexico Junior College, New Mexico, is chairman.
- The Commission on Urban Community Colleges was established in 1983 to advise the president and Board of AACJC on matters of concern to community colleges serving urban communities. Fifteen chief executive officers from member institutions make up the commission. Paul A. Elsner, chancellor of The Maricopa Colleges, Arizona, is chairman.

Keeping America Working Task Force

The Keeping America Working Task Force (KAW) is a jointly sponsored AACJC and Association of Community College Trustees (ACCT) initiative. The KAW Task Force (formerly Putting America Back to Work) is rooted in the original Business/Industry Council (BIC) concept and initiative at ACCT. The primary thrust of Phase I, Putting America Back to Work, was to raise the consciousness of leaders in the public and private sectors with respect to the largely untapped training resource housed in our nation's community, technical, and junior colleges. Phase II has continued this consciousness raising and also has concentrated on brokering relationships between nationally based businesses and industries and two-year colleges.

The 26-member Task Force has an equal number of appointments from the two Associations, with membership selected by the respective Association presidents. Task Force members include both educators and representatives from the business/industry community. The Task Force chairman, also a joint appointment, traditionally has been a representative from the private sector. Philip K. Hammond, president, Dynamic Sciences, Inc., currently serves as chairman. Operational monies have come from AACJC and ACCT general funds, grants awarded by the Sears Foundation, and a Shell Oil Company grant. The Task Force has met on an ad hoc basis about three times per year.

Consortia

- The International/Intercultural Consortium (I/IC) was formed in 1976 in response to the growing interest of local community, technical, and junior colleges in international education. The consortium is an institutional membership organization composed of 46 two-year colleges that sponsor a range of programs, including internationalizing curricula, group and individual study abroad, faculty/administrator/student study abroad, international trade education, cultural awareness programs, technical assistance provision to institutions in other countries, area/ethnic studies, foreign language courses, global peace/health/political/ecological seminars, and foreign student enrollments.

Consortium membership is open to all accredited two-year colleges that offer an associate degree. Annual membership fees are $500. A secretariat consisting of the AACJC director of international services and the staff assistant in the international office provide administrative services. Annual meetings of member institution presidents are called to review consortium activities and to set directions for the next 12-month period. Similar meetings are called of the member college coordinators of international education. During the annual AACJC convention, special forums/workshops are offered that focus on international education issues, a reception is sponsored to greet international participants at the meeting, and a consortium business session is conducted. The consortium executive committee is composed of all member institution presidents.

- The Instructional Telecommunications Consortium (ITC), established in 1977 under the title Task Force on Uses of Mass Media in Learning, serves as a clearinghouse for and disseminator of information about telecommunications uses in postsecondary education. The Consortium encourages cooperation among ITC members and community colleges in planning, designing, and utilizing telecommunications-based curricula and acts as an agency to influence and shape telecommunications policies as they affect postsecondary institutions.

  Membership currently stands at 30 and is comprised of single institutions, multicampus districts, and regional and statewide consortia of community colleges. Members pay annual dues based on FTE that range from $500 to $1,250 per year. Consortia of institutions pay a flat $1,500 per year. The ITC maintains an office and a staff director at AACJC. An Executive Committee, comprised of Consortium member representatives, recommends policy to the full membership.

Servicemembers Opportunity Colleges

The Servicemembers Opportunity Colleges (SOC) project was founded by the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges (AACJC) in 1972, and in 1973 a four-year college component was added. The project is cosponsored by AACJC and the American Association of State Colleges and Universities. SOC institutions agree to certain principles and criteria to ensure that high quality programs are available to military students, and to help remove unnecessary barriers that members of the Armed Services and many veterans encounter when pursuing postsecondary education (e.g., articulation). SOC institutions collectively confer the full range of associate, baccalaureate, and graduate degrees.

SOC has an Advisory Committee of 18 members (and 6 military liaisons) who represent the cosponsoring associations, the cooperating higher education agencies, and the military services. The Committee meets twice a year. Salvatore G. Rotella, chancellor of the Chicago City Colleges, chairs the Committee. SOC is funded through a contract with the Department of Defense.

AACJC/NLN-CADP Liaison Committee

The Liaison Committee of the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges and the National League for Nursing—Council of Associate Degree Programs was established in 1969 to promote cooperation and to serve as a means of communication and coordination between AACJC and NLN-CADP on matters of mutual concern. Over the years, the Committee has identified issues in associate degree nursing programs, formulated recommendations for the consideration of the parent groups relative to the improvement of nurse education, and provided a forum for interaction between educators in nursing and community, technical, and junior college administrators.

The Committee consists of 6 members, 3 appointed by AACJC and 3 appointed by NLN. In addition, each organization designates staff as ex-officio members, without vote. The Committee meets twice annually, in the fall and in conjunction with the AACJC and/or NLN conventions in the spring. Travel expenses of the members are the responsibility of the respective appointing organizations, and AACJC also maintains a special general fund account to cover other expenses.

Presidents Academy

The Presidents Academy devotes attention to the roles, welfare, and professional development of chief executive officers of AACJC member institutions. It provides opportunities to exchange ideas, a program for inservice professional development, and a means of expressing concerns of chief executive officers. Inquiries may be directed to Lawrence W. Tyree, president of Gulf Coast Community College, Florida, who is Academy chairman.

Association of Community College Trustees

AACJC maintains close and cordial working relationships with the Association of Community College Trustees. ACCT serves more than 4,000 trustees, who shape policy and community support for some 750 American two-year colleges. Through its annual convention, other conferences and seminars, and varied information services, ACCT helps to equip governing boards and their members to oversee such diverse functions as systems management, collective bargaining, budget processes, performance evaluations, board retreats, and administrative searches. The ACCT president for 1984–85 is Wayne T. Newton, trustee, Kirkwood Community College, Iowa. William H. Meardy is executive director.

AFFILIATED COUNCILS

AACJC has introduced a system of councils through which the common interests of their members can be served. Councils provide individuals with the means to affiliate with the Association beyond official institutional representation. Within a flexible organizational arrangement, councils are encouraged to take initiatives in pursuing proposals and activities in support of Association and council goals.

Through a formal process, councils are recognized as affiliates for a specified period of time—usually three years. A regular review process established by the AACJC Board of Directors allows for extension of the recognition period. Each council is assigned at least one AACJC Board member and one member of the AACJC staff to act as liaisons. In addition, the Association's constitution and bylaws provide for six members of the AACJC Board to be elected by the institutional membership to serve as official council representatives on the Board.

Fourteen councils are presently affiliated with the Association:

American Association of Women in Community and Junior Colleges

The American Association of Women in Community and Junior Colleges (AAWCJC) is one of the largest and most responsive organizations working for the concerns of women in education. Formed in 1973, the Association represents its members on a state and ten-region basis. Steady increases in female students, staff, and educational professionals have had a dynamic effect on the growth and professional activities of AAWCJC. Key benefits of AAWCJC membership are a quarterly newsletter, a job bank, and a variety of professional development activities for women in two-year colleges at the local, state, and regional levels.

President: Jo-Ann W. Terry, Dean of Educational Services, Wayne County Community College, 801 West Fort Street, Detroit, Michigan 48226; (313) 496-2810.

Community College Humanities Association

The Community College Humanities Association (CCHA) is dedicated to strengthening the humanities in community, technical, and junior colleges. CCHA serves as a catalyst in defining the issues facing humanities faculty and administrators, in finding solutions to problems in the field, and in establishing a communication network for all humanists. Special seminars, five annual regional meetings, a triannual newsletter, and an annual journal provide for the exchange of ideas and information, support the professional work of humanities faculty, and encourage scholarly activity in the humanistic disciplines.

Chairman: Donald D. Schmeltekopf, Professor of Philosophy, Union County College, 1033 Springfield Avenue, Cranford, New Jersey 07016; (201) 276-2600.

Council for Occupational Education

The Council for Occupational Education (COE) is concerned with issues, trends, and legislation related to postsecondary occupational education, human resource development, and the creation of technical training programs to reduce manpower shortages. COE represents faculty, mid-level administrators, deans, and college presidents, as well as individuals from business, organized labor, the military, and government. It sponsors two national professional development meetings yearly, publishes occasional newsletters, distributes the quarterly Technology Review Journal, prepares legislation for consideration by Congress, and encourages members to publish and disseminate materials on occupational education in two-year colleges.

President: H. James Owen, President, Tri-Cities State Technical Institute, Blountville, Tennessee 37617; (615) 323-3191.

Council of Universities and Colleges

The purpose of the Council of Universities and Colleges (CUC) is to promote peer relationships and stimulate publication and research among professors housed in college and university graduate schools. Members of the council are specialists in community, technical, and junior college issues (often having substantial experience as two-year college educators) and regard service to the applied field as one of their major responsibilities. Since these individuals spend a large portion of their time training personnel to function within two-year colleges, the Council also sees itself as an instrument to support professional development in the field. The association between CUC members and AACJC has been constant since the founding meeting of AACJC in 1920.

President: Richard C. Richardson, Arizona State University, College of Education, Department of Higher and Adult Education, Tempe, Arizona 85287; (602) 965-6248.

National Council on Black American Affairs

In 1972, the Council on Black American Affairs (CBAA) was established to provide a national body through which faculty, students, administrators, and nonteaching personnel could affiliate to foster more effective education and employment of black people. CBAA, working through its four regions, focuses on matters involving curricula, human resource development, data collection, information dissemination, and solutions to problems in education that confront black people. The following are Council priorities: (1) professional development of black leadership within colleges; (2) expansion of supportive services for low-income students; and (3) implementation of effective affirmative action programs.

Chairperson: Carl Crawford, Provost, North Campus, Broward Community College, 1000 Coconut Creek Boulevard, Coconut Creek, Florida 33066; (305) 973-2202.

National Council for Community Relations

The National Council for Community Relations (NCCR) is a professional organization for specialists in college relations in two-year colleges in the U.S. and Canada. It was founded in 1974 to provide special services for people who share the tasks of marketing the college and communicating with its many publics. NCCR members work in a variety of information-related areas: media relations, editing and publications, coordination of campus and community events, high school/college relations, consumer information, alumni and governmental relations. Members include public information practitioners, higher-level administrators, and college presidents.

President: D. Richard Petrizzo, Vice President of External Affairs, College of DuPage, Glen Ellyn, Illinois 60137; (312) 858-2800.

National Council for Research and Planning

The National Council for Research and Planning (NCRP) provides a network for expression and exchange on matters of institutional management and advises AACJC on policy issues relating to research and information-based management. The Council also serves as a national forum for planning, coordinating, and conducting activities that promote research and information-based decision making in postsecondary, community-based institutions. NCRP products include the Community College Journal for Research and Planning, focusing on institutional management; Parameters, a bimonthly newsletter; position papers on policy issues; and a yearly series of workshops and forums.

President: Bert Purga, Associate Vice Chancellor, Eastern Iowa Community College District, 2804 Eastern Avenue, Davenport, Iowa 52803; (319) 322-5015.

National Council for Resource Development

The purpose of the National Council for Resource Development (NCRD) is to assist two-year colleges in the acquisition of financial resources adequate to support their educational programs. To achieve this, the Council provides the institutions with: (1) assistance and information to encourage higher levels of financial support from both public and private sectors; (2) a vehicle for cooperation and communication in addressing issues and problems in the area of resource development; and (3) programs and activities designed to enhance the level of skill with which the profession of resource development is practiced in two-year institutions.

President: Judson H. Flower, President, Miles Community College, 2715 Dickinson Street, Miles City, Montana 59301; (406) 232-3031.

National Council for Staff, Program and Organizational Development

The mission of the National Council for Staff, Program and Organizational Development (NCSPOD) is to promote staff and organization development in two-year colleges. NCSPOD offers a broad range of services and opportunities to its members, including the Network newsletter, a yearly conference and regional skill-building workshops, research and data dissemination, and a human resources referral directory. The Council is dedicated to: (1) developing innovative, effective approaches to staff, program, and organization development; (2) maintaining communication among organizations concerned with such efforts; (3) fostering research and evaluation in the field; and (4) generating means for self-development of persons interested in staff, program, and organization development.

President: Carol McCombs, Director, Program and Faculty Development, Tri-County Technical College, P.O. Box 587, Highway 76, Pendleton, South Carolina 29670; (803) 646-8361.

National Council of Community College Business Officials

The National Council of Community College Business Officials (NCCCBO) is the only organization whose efforts and resources are dedicated exclusively to the advancement of the interests of business officials in the nation's community, technical, and junior colleges. NCCCBO represents administrators in the broad area of finance and administrative support services. Membership services include The Bottom Line, a triannual newsletter focusing on current issues of national concern; The Charter of Accounts, a timely periodic update of events and activities; a subscription to the AACJC Community and Junior College Journal; and two professional development programs—a national fall seminar and the annual meeting in conjunction with the AACJC convention each spring. The Council contributes to the overall mission of the Association by advancing excellence through effective business management.

President: Thomas King, North Carolina State Department of Community Colleges, 194 Education Building, Raleigh, North Carolina 27611; (919) 733-7051.

National Council of Instructional Administrators

The National Council of Instructional Administrators (NCIA) consists of those who make policy decisions impacting instructional programs in two-year colleges. Through national, regional, and state activities, NCIA sponsors a variety of meetings, conferences, and workshops on instructional matters. Each year the Council focuses on a different issue of interest and importance to its members, and this issue becomes the focus for an NCIA forum at the AACJC annual convention. A quarterly newsletter and yearly proceedings are published by the Council.

President: William Christopher, Dean of Instruction, Whatcom Community College, Bellingham, Washington 98226; (206) 676-2170.

National Council of State Directors of Community/Junior Colleges

Organized in 1968, the National Council of State Directors of Community/Junior Colleges (NCSDCJC) is comprised of state directors—or whoever serves in that capacity—in the various states. Council purposes include: (1) fostering the development of systems of community, technical, and junior colleges in the states; (2) providing a forum for exchange of information about trends and problems; (3) seeking ways to improve the competencies of state agencies; and (4) promoting coordination among the states in federal matters, including legislation. The Council has three standing committees: Legislative; Research and Data; and Issues, Trends and Projects.

Chairperson: David T. Kelly, Assistant Commissioner for Community Colleges and Continuing Education, Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, P.O. Box 12788—Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711; (512) 475-3413.

National Council on Community Services and Continuing Education

The National Council on Community Services and Continuing Education (NCCSCE) is committed to providing national leadership to the field of community services, continuing education, and lifelong learning in community, technical, and junior colleges. NCCSCE services include four quarterly issues of the professional journal The Community Services Catalyst newsletters to update members on Council activities and events, working papers detailing exemplary programming in the field, consulting services upon request, and sponsorship of national and regional conferences.

President: Hans A. Andrews, NCCSCE President, Dean of Instruction, Illinois Valley Community College, Oglesby, Illinois 61348; (815) 224-2720.

National Council on Student Development

The National Council on Student Development (NCSD) is an organization of student development/student services educators. It provides an avenue for members to express their views on current concerns and to advise AACJC and other groups on matters relating to student development in community, technical, and junior colleges. In addition to serving as an advisory body and general voice for student development, NCSD promotes student services staff and program development through seminars and workshops, and collects and disseminates information on trends in the student development field.

Chairperson: John Keyser, Vice President for Instruction, Linn-Benton Community College, 6500 S.W. Pacific Boulevard, Albany, Oregon 97321; (503) 928-2361.

INTERPRETING THE DATA

Fall enrollment data for 1984 were collected by the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges directly from the 1,222 community, technical, and junior colleges that compose the field of regionally accredited, associate degree granting colleges. The Association's research office staff sent each college a preprinted, computer-generated form showing the figures reported by the college for the previous year and asked that each institution enter corresponding data for fall 1984.

As has been the case in previous years, the return rate for the Directory questionnaire was remarkable—96.5 percent of the 1,222 colleges returned completed forms. Thirty-nine colleges did not complete their questionnaires by the Directory's publication.

The results of this year's annual survey are reported by institution in Table I, and are tabulated by state in Tables II, III, and IV. For some institutions enrollment and other data are reported by campus; for others, the data are reported at the district office level.

An alphabetical listing of colleges, cross-referenced by state is presented in the appendix. To locate a college that may have reorganized, or changed its name, see "Changes in Institutions" appearing later in this book. The inclusion of a college one year and not the next does not necessarily mean it has ceased to exist. We ask state-level officials each fall to indicate to us which institutions should be listed in this Directory. The exclusion of a college from the 1985 Directory could be due to changes in its accreditation status or its program.

Enrollment during the 1984 opening fall term in community, technical, and junior colleges declined as compared to enrollments the previous year—a decline projected by Association officials. For the past few years, enrollments in two-year colleges have remained stable, and we expect them to remain stable for the new few years. Total 1984 headcount for credit students in two-year colleges numbered 4,836,819. The 1983 fall enrollment count was 4,947,975. The 1984 figure represents a decline of 111,156 students, or 2.2 percent compared to fall 1983. (See Table A.)

As occurred last year, the largest drop was in the fulltime student category. This fall the colleges registered 1,694,121 fulltime credit students. Last fall (1983) the fulltime credit student enrollment was 1,833,994, for a difference of 139,873 students. The difference reflects a 7.6 percent decline nationwide for fulltime students. On the other hand, parttime student enrollments increased over last year's numbers. In 1983, 3,113,981 parttime credit students enrolled in two-year colleges. This year, 3,142,698 parttime credit students enrolled, for an overall gain of 28,717; or an increase of 0.9 percent.

Enrollment declines in some of the largest states accounted for nearly seventy percent of the total national enrollment drop. The states with the sharpest decline in student numbers were Illinois, Pennsylvania, Michigan, New York, Ohio, and Florida. Washington, Oregon, Colorado, and Alabama experienced significant gains in student numbers. Gains in the Alabama numbers are caused essentially by expanded enrollments at the Community College of the Air Force.

Public community, technical, and junior college enrollments showed an overall enrollment decline of 2.0 percent, with parttime enrollments advancing by 0.94 percent over 1983 figures and fulltime enrollments falling by 7.3 percent. (See Table B.)

Private two-year colleges reported substantial declines, particularly in fulltime students. Compared to numbers for fall 1983, the private colleges lost 14,096 fulltime students or 12.6 percent of their numbers of a year ago. Total student loss in these institutions amounted to 14,289 for a decline of 9.6 percent compared to last year. (See Table C.)

Noncredit enrollments in the colleges in 1983–84 numbered 3,724,529, an increase of 204,403, or 5.8 percent. (See Table D.)

Table E presents an historic record of the development and expansion of two-year colleges since 1900.

The data provided in these pages could not have been gathered without the cooperation and support of all of the institutions listed in the Directory and the state-level officials who assisted AACJC in identifying the colleges that should be served by the Association.

Questions about the data or the methodology used by Association staff to compile these data should be referred to the AACJC data office.

*Cumulative total.

The decrease from 677 to 663 colleges is largely a result of change of programs in a number of university extension centers which left them no longer essentially two-year colleges. Twenty-six institutions were dropped from the Directory for this reason. Nine additional two-year colleges became senior institutions. Three California evening colleges were joined with their day counterparts. 46,294 students were enrolled the preceding year in the institutions dropped. One institution closed during the year. Twenty-three institutions were added.

Enrollment for the full academic year 1959–60 including the 1959 summer session was 816,071. This is a cumulative total and includes all students. Reporting institutions were instructed to count each student only once. A large part of the decrease in enrollment from 905,062 to 816,071 is accounted for by a decrease in adult enrollments.

Definitions of Terms

ENROLLMENT

Fulltime—Students carrying at least 12 credit hours or more.

Parttime—Students enrolled in the college and carrying 11 credits or fewer.

Total enrollment is a headcount of fulltime and parttime students enrolled for credit courses only.

Community education enrollment includes only those students participating in noncredit activities.

FACULTY

Fulltime—Includes all personnel who spend 50 percent or more of their time teaching (teaching load of 9 hours or more).

Parttime—includes all personnel who spend less than 50 percent of their time teaching (teaching load of 8 hours or fewer).

PROFESSIONAL SUPPORT STAFF

Staff—Includes such professional employees as librarians, counselors, etc., if these staff are not designated by the college as either faculty or administration. (Does not include classified staff.)

ADMINISTRATION

Administrative staff—Includes executive and managerial staff who spend 50 percent or more of their time in administrative work.

TUITION AND REQUIRED FEES

Student cost figures are for a fulltime student for the full academic year 84–85, and where applicable are for those students living within the state and within the institutional district.

APPENDIX

Constitution of the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges*

Preamble

We who serve in community and junior colleges are unified in the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges by a common desire to assist in extending educational opportunity to all citizens of this nation.

We believe education is essential for realizing the fullest potential of each member of our society and that appropriate higher education should be available to all who can benefit from it. Though diverse in purpose, in type, in control, in size, and in geographic location, members of the Association share a singleness of concern and dedication to this educational mission.

Article I. Name

The name of this organization will be "American Association of Community and Junior Colleges."

Article II. Purposes

The Association is organized and shall be operated exclusively for charitable and educational purposes and shall not engage in any activity which is not permitted by an organization exempt from taxation under Section 501(a) and described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. No part of its net earnings shall inure to the benefit of any private individual except that reasonable compensation may be paid for services actually rendered. No substantial part of its activities shall be for carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting to influence legislation, and it shall not participate in, or intervene in (including the publishing or distributing of statements) any political campaign on behalf of any candidate for public office.

Pursuant to these purposes, the Association shall promote the sound growth of community and junior colleges and shall help create in them an atmosphere conducive to learning. It shall contribute in every practical way to the development of a better human environment in America by working for the extension of full educational opportunity to all Americans on an equitable basis, qualitatively and quantitatively, and by striving for the elimination of all forms of discrimination whether by race, creed, sex, or financial condition.

Article III. Membership

Section 1. The members of this organization shall be limited to community, junior, and technical colleges, and similar postsecondary institutions which are not private foundations by reasons of Section 509(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (or the corresponding provisions of any future United States Internal Revenue Law). The membership shall consist of two categories: full and provisional. All members shall be approved by the Board of Directors.

Section 2. Full Institutional Members: Institutional membership is open to community, junior, and technical colleges and similar postsecondary institutions which are accredited by a regional accrediting association recognized by the Council on Postsecondary Accreditation. Institutional members are entitled to one vote.

Section 3. Provisional Institutional Members: Provisional institutional membership may be granted to newly organized community, junior, and technical colleges, and other similar postsecondary institutions which have not yet secured the necessary accreditation for institutional membership. Representatives of provisional institutional members are entitled to all privileges of the full institutional member of the Association except that they are ineligible to hold elective office. Provisional institutional members may hold this classification for five years, and during this time the Association will use appropriate resources to assist the institution to obtain the necessary accreditation.

Article IV. Associates

Section 1. Individual Associates: Any person interested in the work of the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges and acceptable to the Board of Directors may become an individual associate. Individual associates may not vote or hold elective office except as otherwise provided in this constitution.

Section 2. Institutional Associates: Any foundation, corporation, or other organization which wishes to support the objectives of the Association may become an institutional associate upon approval of the Board of Directors. Representatives of institutional associates may not vote or hold elective office except as otherwise provided in this constitution.

Section 3. Honorary Associates: Individuals who have performed outstanding service in community and junior college work, upon nomination by the Board of Directors, may be elected honorary associates of the Association. Honorary associates may not vote or hold elective office except as otherwise provided in this constitution.

Article V. Dues

Dues of members shall be fixed by the Board of Directors with the approval of the institutional membership at the annual business meeting or by mail ballot. Dues of associates shall be fixed by the Board of Directors.

Article VI. Board of Directors

Section 1. The governing body of the Association shall be the Board of Directors.

Section 2. The Board of Directors shall have authority to make policies for the Association which are not inconsistent with the constitution and bylaws. The Board of Directors shall have authority to establish bylaws and to establish an executive committee.

Section 3. The Board of Directors shall consist of thirty-one directors.

Eighteen of the directors shall be representatives of the institutional members, of which at least fifteen shall be chief executive officers; three of the directors shall be elected at large by the Board of Directors from individuals affiliated with institutional members; three directors shall be elected at large by the Board of Directors from the general public; six directors shall be elected by the institutional membership from the recognized councils; and one director, elected by the Board of Directors, shall be the immediate past chairman of the Board of Directors.

Section 4. A majority of the members of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business provided that a majority of those present are institutional representatives.

Article VII. Officers

Section 1. The officers of the Association shall be a chairman and a vice chairman of the Board of Directors, the president of the Association, and such other officers as from time to time may be elected by the Board of Directors.

Section 2. The president shall be appointed by the Board of Directors for such term and at such salary as the Board may determine.

Article VIII. Duties of Officers

Section 1. The chairman and vice chairman shall perform the duties pertaining to their offices as may be defined by the Board of Directors. The chairman shall preside at meetings of the Board.

Section 2. The president shall be the chief executive officer of the Association.

Article IX. Elections

Section 1. The chairman and vice chairman shall be elected annually by the Board of Directors.

Section 2. Six directors representing the institutional members shall be elected each year by the institutional membership to serve for terms of three years each.

One director at-large representing the total institutional membership shall be elected by the Board each year to serve for a term of three years.

One director at-large representing the public shall be elected by the Board each year to serve for a term of three years.

Two directors representing the recognized councils shall be elected each year by the institutional membership to serve for terms of three years each.

One director, the immediate past chairman of the Board of Directors, shall be elected by the Board each year to serve for a term of one year.

Section 3. Directors representing institutional members shall be elected by a vote of the official institutional representatives of members responding by mail ballot.

Section 4. Directors shall take office on July 1 of the year of their election and shall serve until their successors are designated in accordance with provisions of the constitution.

Section 5. In the event of a vacancy in the office of the chairman, the vice chairman shall become chairman and serve the unexpired term. If there is a vacancy in both the office of chairman and vice chairman, the Board of Directors shall elect one of the members of the Board to serve as chairman for the unexpired term.

In the event of a vacancy among the directors from the institutional member representatives or from the recognized councils, the Board shall appoint a new director to serve until the committee on directors reports to the membership and annual elections are conducted.

In the event of a vacancy among the directors at-large, the Board shall elect a new director to serve for the unexpired term.

Article X. Meetings of the Association

Section 1. There shall be an annual meeting of the Association at such time and place as the Board of Directors may determine. Special meetings may be called by the Board of Directors.

Section 2. Designated representatives of institutional members present at any meeting of which written notice has been duly given shall constitute a quorum for transaction of business.

Section 3. Each member institution shall be entitled to one vote by its designated representative.

Article XI. Finance

At each annual meeting, the Board of Directors shall present a statement of financial condition of the Association and shall report on financial operations of the preceding year and financial plans for the succeeding year. No financial obligations shall be incurred by any officer or committee except as authorized within annual budgets, or under authority of special interim action, approved by the Board of Directors or its executive committee in interim action. The fiscal year of the Association shall be fixed by the bylaws.

Article XII. Amendments

Section 1. This constitution may be amended at an annual meeting of the Association by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the designated representatives of institutional and provisional institutional members present and voting. Amendments shall not alter the purposes of this trust to operate exclusively for charitable and educational purposes and in a manner which makes this trust tax exempt and the donations to it deductible from taxable income to the extent allowed by the Internal Revenue Code.

Written notice of any proposed amendment in the constitution shall be sent to all members of the Association at least thirty (30) days prior to the date of the annual meeting.

Section 2. A referendum to the constitution may be authorized by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the designated representatives of institutional and provisional institutional members present and voting at an annual meeting. An affirmative vote of two-thirds of the institutional and provisional institutional members shall be necessary to amend the constitution through a referendum, provided that at least two-thirds of the institutional and provisional institutional members respond to such a referendum. The Board of Directors shall be responsible for conducting a referendum.

Section 3. The bylaws may be amended by a majority vote of all members of the Board of Directors. Mail ballots may be used.

Article XIII. Provision for Dissolution and Reference to Sections

Upon dissolution of this corporation, if such ever should occur, the directors shall distribute all assets of the Association remaining after payment of debts and liabilities to such institution or institutions or association or associations as the majority of the Board of Directors shall elect, which are exempt from taxation under Section 501(a), are organized and operated exclusively for educational or charitable purposes within the meaning of Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, and have purposes similar to the purposes of this Association. All references to sections of the Internal Revenue Code are to those sections as they are now enacted or hereafter amended.

Article XIV. Parliamentary Authority

The rules contained in the current edition of Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised shall govern the Association in all cases to which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with this constitution and any special rules of order the Association may adopt.

Bylaws

I. Membership

1. Each campus or college of a multicampus institution shall be invited to become an institutional member. When each campus or college holds such membership, the parent institution shall automatically become an institutional member at no additional cost. Each campus unit holding membership, as well as the parent institution, shall be entitled to all membership privileges, including the right of its representative to vote and hold elective office.

2. The chief executive officer of the member institution shall be recognized as its official designated representative unless the institution's chief executive officer has designated, in writing, another individual.

II. Organizational Structure

1. Officers and Directors

Directors shall serve for no more than two complete terms. A complete term shall normally be three years; however, a term of two years or more shall be considered a complete term.

Officers of the Board of Directors shall be a chairman and a vice chairman, elected by members of the Board. Election of the officers shall take place at the spring meeting of the Board, with term of office to be for one year, beginning July 1 of the year of their election. The elected chairman and the elected vice chairman shall be limited to serving one term in their respective offices.

2. Committees of the Board

The Board of Directors shall have an executive committee from its own membership, a committee on professional services, a committee on directors and membership services, a committee on federal relations, and a committee on Association vitality and publications. It may also establish ad hoc committees. These committees shall be appointed by the chairman of the Board with approval of the Board.

3. Meetings of the Board

The Board of Directors shall meet at least twice a year. Written notice of all Board meetings shall be sent to the directors at least thirty (30) days in advance.

4. Other Groups

The Board of Directors may authorize the creation of discontinuance of commissions, committees, task forces, or similar groups responsible for broad areas of Association activities under the guidance and direction of the Board. The Board of Directors shall establish tenure of members of such commissions and committees. The chairman of the Board shall appoint the members of committees, commissions, and other such groups.

5. Responsibilities of the President

The president of the Association shall have general administrative supervision of the affairs of the Association and shall be responsible for the execution of such plans and policies as the Board of Directors may authorize, direct, or approve. He shall assign staff members appropriate titles and duties. He shall be ex officio a member of all commissions and committees, excepting the nominating committee. He shall report annually to the Association and shall make such other reports as the Board of Directors may request. He shall prepare and recommend an annual budget to the Board of Directors. He shall be responsible for the collection of dues and for the custody of funds of the Association and shall make payments therefore in accordance with the authorizations and directions of the Board of Directors. He shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors or for such term as the Board of Directors may determine.

A secretary and a treasurer may be designated by the president with approval of the Board of Directors.

6. Delegation of Authority

The Board of Directors, the governing body of the Association, may at its discretion delegate portions of its authority (except approval of the budget) to the specific officers of the Association, to committees of the Board, or to councils, commissions, and committees of the Association.

7. Councils

The Board may from time to time enter into an agreement with councils which are organized and operate for purposes which contribute to and significantly benefit the purposes of the Association. Such an agreement, for a specified period of time, will constitute a formal affiliation with the Association. Such councils shall be organized and operated in a manner consistent with rules and regulations approved by the Board. For a council to become officially affiliated with the Association, it must submit a written request to the Board of Directors setting forth its purposes, membership criteria, form of governance, and financial structure. Approval of the Board and written notification to the council constitute official recognition and affiliation with the Association. The Board may withdraw formal affiliation of a council by a written ninety (90) day notice.

Any notice of withdrawal must set forth the reason. A group so affected may be granted a hearing by the Board if an appeal is filed within thirty (30) days after such notice is mailed by the Board.

III. Nominations

1. Nominations for the eighteen institutional representatives shall be by the Board of Directors' committee on directors. Additional nominations may be made from the membership of institutional representatives.

2. Nominations for the eighteen institutional representatives, including source and biographical statements about nominees, shall constitute a mail ballot to be sent to the official institutional representatives by April 15 of each year.

3. The Board of Directors shall elect its at-large members from nominations made by the Board's committee on directors, with results announced to the membership at the earliest practical date following election.

4. Each recognized council not represented on the Board of Directors, including those councils whose terms are to end in the current Board year, will be invited to submit a nomination to the Board's committee on directors. This nomination from each council shall be whatever procedure is endorsed by a decision of the members of each council concerned. If a council nominee is officially connected with an institution eligible for membership in the Association, that institution must be an institutional member. The nominations for the recognized councils, together with source and biographical statements about the nominees, shall be a part of the mail ballot to be sent to the official institutional representatives by April 15 of each year.

5. In cases of vacancies, replacements are to be made for the remainder of the membership year by appointment of the Board of Directors.

IV. Succession of Officers and Directors

1. Members of the Board shall be considered to be ineligible to serve in the category in which they were elected if by reason of change of position they no longer represent that category. The term of office of such a member shall be terminated effective the date of change.

V. Membership Lists

1. Names of all members shall be published annually.

2. Any members whose dues are unpaid for the preceding year shall be dropped from the membership list.

3. Institutions dropped for non-payment of dues may be reinstated by making a new application for membership in which case the Board may require the payment of delinquent dues.

VI. Fiscal Policy

1. The fiscal year of the Association shall begin January 1 and close on December 31. The Board of Directors shall have authority to change the fiscal year.

2. The Board of Directors shall adopt an annual budget for each fiscal year.

3. The Association, on approval by the Board of Directors, may accept grants from foundations and other appropriate donors and enter into contract with the federal government and other appropriate agencies to pursue investigations and perform services consistent with Association objectives.

4. There shall be an annual audit of the general financial condition and operations of the Association by a certified public accountant.

5. The president and all employees of the Association office who handle any part of the funds of the Association shall be bonded, the amount of the bonds to be determined by the Board of Directors and paid for by the Association.

VII. Annual Meeting

1. The annual meeting of the Association shall be held at a time and place determined by the Board. Written notice of all meetings shall be sent to all members at least two weeks in advance.

Periodicals

AACJC Letter

The only national weekly newsletter exclusively for community, technical, and junior college leaders. Edited by AACJC President Dale Parnell, a former community college president and chancellor who is intimately acquainted with the requirements of administrators. Timely, topical "briefs" on cost-effective management, the latest statistical data, marketing and advancement opportunities, and other "must have" information are regular inserts in the Letter. Alternating issues focus on current legislative concerns and federal policies. CJC1

Published weekly. $60 per single subscription; $30 per group subscription (10 or more copies delivered to one address).

Community and Junior College Journal

The only national magazine devoted exclusively to the interests of people involved in community, technical, and junior college education. For more than a half century, the Journal has offered readable, worthwhile information about exemplary programs, practices, policies, and people. It provides a sought-after opportunity for administrators and faculty to publish their best ideas. Regular features include Association news, legislation analysis, campus activities and facilities, research reports, and book reviews. CJC2

Published eight times annually. $16 per single subscription; $8 per group subscription (10 or more copies delivered to one address).

Community, Technical, and Junior College Directory

The most authoritative source for current data on more than 1,220 accredited two-year colleges. Data include name, address, and phone number of each institution; chief executive officer; accreditation status; type of academic year; parttime and fulltime enrollment; community service/adult education enrollment; number of faculty, professional staff, and administrators; and tuition fees. This publication also provides information on AACJC's programs and services, Board of Directors, membership, and affiliated councils. Included are two-year college organizations and state administrators. 1511

Published annually. $25.

Leadership Bookshelf Series

Community College Leadership for the '80s.

John E. Roueche and George A. Baker, editors, 1984. $10.

In this first monograph to be published by AACJC under the Leadership Bookshelf Series, nine leaders with recognized success in community college and university management share their experiences, the techniques they have found useful, and their personal views about community college leadership. In addition to the editors, the contributing writers are Alfredo de los Santos Jr., R. Jan LeCroy, Robert McCabe, Byron McClenney, Richard Richardson Jr., Joe Rushing, and Benjamin Wygal. 135X

Facing the Challenges of the Future: The 1984 Presidents Academy Award Addresses.

1984. $6.

Second in the AACJC Leadership Bookshelf Series, this monograph contains four addresses by leading community college presidents and chancellors selected for recognition by the AACJC Presidents Academy. Contributing writers are Rose Channing, Donald Goldbold, Richard Greenfield, and Robert Parilla. 1368

Leadership Strategies for Community College Effectiveness.

Dale F. Campbell, editor, 1985. $14.

Number 3 in the Leadership Bookshelf Series, this monograph is based on the outcomes of the North Carolina Community College Presidents' Leadership Institute, which was conducted in 1983-84 to help chief executives acquire new management skills and strategies for coping with today's information society. The volume reviews how the challenges of rapid technological developments, a changing economy, increasing competition, and a crisis in identity can be met with new, motivating competencies and adaptive strategies in human resource development, resource development and marketing, focusing the curriculum, and creative leadership and governance. Noted members of the professoriate and the AACJC Presidents Academy synthesize the best of theory and sharing of successful practices of adaptive strategies to enhance community college effectiveness, and AACJC President Dale Parnell shares his vision of the future of the community college movement. The book also features reviews of each chapter by current midlevel managers on the implications for leadership. In addition to the editor, featured resource persons reviewed include Richard Alfred, Thomas Barton Jr., Carl Christian Andersen, Louis Bender, John Blong, James Hammons, James Hudgins, Barbara Keener, George Keller, Byron McClenney, Richard Richardson Jr., John Roueche, and George Vaughan. 1376

Student Aid and Tuition

Student Aid and Public Higher Education: A Progress Report.

Jacob O. Stampen and Roxanne Wilkie Reeves, 1983. $5.

A report sponsored by the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges, the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, and the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges analyzing the distribution and impact of student financial assistance at public colleges and universities during the academic year 1981–82, based on approximately 12,000 student aid recipient records of 226 participating institutions. A1B2

Low Tuition Fact Book.

Documents eight basic facts about tuition and educational opportunity, and addresses the need for colleges and universities to work toward low tuition and the adequate appropriations for higher education that make low tuition possible. A publication of the National Coalition for Lower Tuition in Higher Education: American Association of Community and Junior Colleges, American Association of State Colleges and Universities, and the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges. A1B3

Pocket Readers Series

Proven Partners: Business, Labor, and Community Colleges.

Dale Parnell and Roger Yarrington, 1982. $5 each, 12 for $25.

BEST COPY AVAILABLE

Directory of 40 examples of the types of partnerships community colleges are developing every day with local employers. 1163

Teaching Writing with the Computer as Helper.

J. Terence Kelly and Kamala Anandam, 1982. $5 each; 12 for $25.

Describes in some detail a breakthrough in providing computer support for English faculty and minimizing the drudgery in scoring students' essays. 1155

Note: Some Tough Questions About Community Colleges and The Community College in America: A Pocket History, previously published as numbers 3 and 4 in the series, have been revised under new formats. The former is now incorporated in Can a College Offer Opportunity and Excellence? Tough Questions About Community, Technical, and Junior Colleges. The latter has been retitled The Community College in America: A Short History. Both are described elsewhere in this brochure.

Policies for Lifelong Education

Modernizing State Policies: Community Colleges and Lifelong Education.

Jamison Gilder, editor, 1981. $7.50.

During 1980 the AACJC project Policies for Lifelong Education convened assemblies in North Carolina, New York, Florida, and California for the purpose of developing specific policy recommendations that would help modernize outdated policy frameworks affecting community colleges. This is a report of the recommendations that were developed by these four states, and includes a summary of the projects accomplishments. 1074

Policies for Lifelong Education.

Jamison Gilder, editor, 1979. $5.

The Policies for Lifelong Education project of AACJC convened a national assembly at Airlie House in Warrenton, Virginia, for the consideration of current issues and problems affecting lifelong education, and to make specific recommendations for policy change and expansion. The recommendations are included here along with background issue papers. 0914

Center for Community Education

A Look to Future Years: Prospects Regarding the Scope and Process of Community Education.

Holly M. Jellison, editor, 1981. $5.

Fourth and final in a series of monographs prepared by the AACJC Center for Community Education, this publication centers on the prospect that the community education process will become the primary focus in the continuing development of the community college as a comprehensive, community-based institution. The papers presented here by participants of a 1981 roundtable raise penetrating questions about the current status and future direction of community education. 1082

Interface Through Cooperative Agreements: Eleven Examples of How It Can Work.

Holly M. Jellison, editor, 1981. $5.

A publication of the AACJC Center for Community Education presenting 11 representative examples of formal cooperative agreements between community colleges and local agencies for the purpose of providing community education programs. Copies of agreements are included. 1090

Interface in Retrospect.

Holly M. Jellison, editor, 1981. $5.

To satisfy requests for reprints of articles appearing in Interface, the newsletter of the Center for Community Education, the center produced this compilation of the 16 most popular. The articles selected fall into two general categories: those dealing with current trends in the philosophy of community-based education and those describing particular programs that demonstrate the practice of these concepts. 1104

Chief Executive Officers

The Presidents and Chancellors.

1982. $15.

An exclusive source of information about the leaders of two-year colleges, containing biographical profiles and photographs. Published by AACJC and its Presidents Academy. 1139

Chief Executive Officers Contracts and Compensation.

R. Stephen Nicholson, 1981. $10.

Older Americans Program

Free and Reduced Tuition Policies for Older Adult Students at Community, Junior, and Technical Colleges.

Loretta J. Butcher, 1980. $3.

This study by the AACJC Older Americans Program examines the existence of statewide policies regulating community, technical, and junior colleges, as well as tuition-waiver policies established by individual institutions in states without these policies. It explores whether these policies cover the types of courses taken by the majority of older adult students and whether they benefit or limit lifelong learning opportunities. 1007

Higher Education and the Older Volunteer: A Place for Everyone.

Holly M. Jellison, editor, 1980. $6.

The twofold purpose of this monograph, which was prepared by the Older Americans Program of AACJC, is to encourage the recruitment and hiring of older volunteers to enhance the services provided by colleges and universities to the community; and to stimulate the design and development or restructuring of programs that professionalize volunteer services. The activities presented here trace the initiation, implementation, and success evaluation of 13 selected older adult volunteer programs. 0981

Mass Media

The Catalog of Mass Media College Courses.

Third edition. James Zigerell, editor, 1983. $20.

Selective listing of more than 100 lower-division undergraduate telecourses available for lease or purchase. In looseleaf, three-hole-punched format. Edited by James Zigerell for the Instructional Telecommunications Consortium, an agency of AACJC.
1279

Adult Learning and Public Broadcasting.

Marilyn Kressel, editor, 1980. $6.50.

Provides a record of the work initiated by the AACJC Adult Learning and Public Broadcasting project, which examined the use of television as an effective mode of offering educational options to adults. This publication also represents the high level of cooperation received from both broadcast and educational communities in the course of designing and implementing the project.
0965

Using Mass Media for Learning.

Roger Yarrington, editor, 1979. $7.50.

Written by members of the AACJC Task Force on the Uses of Mass Media for Learning, this book serves as a resource to colleges wishing to make greater use of the mass media in offering educational services to their communities. This work focuses primarily on the telecourse as the medium offering the most potential for many community colleges and large numbers of learners.

Reviews the past and examines the current condition of general education in community colleges, focusing on trends and developments while offering options to consider for revitalizing existing programs. 1309

The Management of Student Affairs Programs in Community Colleges: Revamping Processes and Structures.

William L. Deegan, 1982. $5.

Presents a perspective on the student affairs profession, identifies the problems and issues that influence the development of student affairs programs, and proposes recommendations for future research, policy development, and management practices. 1260

What Is Student Development?

Donald Rippey, 1981. $5.

Offers a new model for student development dependent on developmental learning theory, demands integrated learning strategies involving all available resources of the college, and prescribes educational functions for professional employees. 1112

Perspective: Community Colleges in the 1980s.

Joseph P. Cosand, 1981. $5.

Views the challenges facing community colleges in the 1980s — from planning ahead to anticipating declining resources and changing student mixes and interests — as drawn by a man who has spent 35 years as a community college teacher, dean, and president, and as a university professor with specific assignments in community college education. 0493

Books Still in Demand

Directory of Administrators of Community, Technical, and Junior Colleges.

1984. $30.

An invaluable resource for businesses, governmental agencies, job seekers, and anyone else wanting to contact the right person at the right place. It contains names of administrative staff at 1,219 accredited two-year colleges and the address and central phone number of each institution. Administrators listed include the chief executive officer, academic dean, director of community relations, dean of student personnel services, director of student financial aid, director of governmental relations, dean of occupational education, director of continuing education/community services, and business officer. Cross referenced by name of college and name of individual. This publication also provides information on AACJC's programs and services, Board of Directors, membership, and affiliated councils. 1333

The Community College: Values, Vision & Vitality.

Edmund J. Gleazer Jr., 1980. $8 each; $6.50 each on bulk orders (10 or more copies).

"What do you consider to be the central elements in community college mission over the next several years?" That was the question the author asked of state officials, legislators, community college presidents, faculty, students, community groups, and others associated with the colleges. The answers he received became the basis for this book (now in its third printing), along with his own viewpoints, which have grown out of more than 20 years of experience in community college education as the chief executive officer of AACJC. 0973

Organizing Staff Development Programs That Work.

Terry O'Banion, 1978. $5.

Staff development is one of the best opportunities community colleges have had for meeting their overall aims and purposes. This book describes some approaches that should be considered in organizing a staff development program that really works, from needs assessment to program evaluation. 0744

Energy Education Programs: Perspectives for Community, Junior, and Technical Colleges.

Mary Ann Settlemire, 1981. $4.

Presents a perspective on energy circumstances in the U.S. and on the role two-year colleges can play in responding to resource needs. Trends and uncertainties in the energy field are noted in this monograph, which also provides colleges with information that may be useful as reference in an energy education course and helpful in establishing, improving, or expanding a program. 104X

Gallup Study: Images of Community Colleges.

The Gallup Organization, 1981. $10.

A study of the attitudes of the American public toward the image and function of the nation's community colleges based on interviews conducted during September 1981. Appendices include a detailed description of the design of the sample, a description of the composition of the achieved sample, and tables of recommended sampling tolerances. A1B1

Internationalizing Community Colleges.

Roger Yarrington, editor, 1978. $5.

A report of the 1978 Wingspread conference addressing aspects of international education programs in community colleges. Included are background papers on internationalizing the curriculum, student and faculty exchanges, technical assistance programs, and a model agreement with a foreign junior college. Recommendations formulated by the participants are also included. 0698

Strengthening Humanities in Community Colleges.

Roger Yarrington, editor, 1980. $5.

Research conducted by the Center for the Study of Community Colleges at the University of California, Los Angeles, indicated that the humanities no longer occupy the central position they once held in American higher education. In an effort to bring the humanities into prominence once again, AACJC convened an assembly at Airlie House in Warrenton, Virginia, late in 1979. This report of the assembly contains recommendations for the improvement of humanities education in community colleges, as well as background papers prepared by assembly leaders. 0949

Minorities and Community Colleges.

Fontelle Gilbert, editor, 1979. $7.50.

A study of 1978 data, collected and analyzed by AACJC, on minority enrollment and staffing in community, technical, and junior colleges. Included are commentaries by minority leaders from around the country on the accomplishments and future needs of minorities in education. 0922

Small Business Course for Older Americans.

1983. $35.

Course of instruction for older citizens who want to explore the possibilities of owning and/or operating their own successful small business. Includes Instructor's Guide and Student Handbook, both in looseleaf format, in a handsome three-ring binder. Product of a project conducted by AACJC with the cooperation of ten community colleges, and funded by the Administration on Aging of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. 1287

College/Business Partnerships

Putting America Back to Work: The Kellogg Leadership Initiative.

James R. Mahoney, editor, 1984. $8.50.

A report and guidebook on the history and purposes of the AACJC/ACCT project Putting America Back to Work (completed in January 1984 and succeeded by Keeping America Working), outlining current and future roles for community colleges in economic and human resource development. Includes guidelines for applying strategic planning procedures to the creation of partnerships between the colleges and the public and private sectors. With annotated bibliography and tables. 1341

Shoulders to the Wheel: Energy-Related College/Business Cooperative Agreements.

Mary Jane Jackman and James R. Mahoney, 1982. $6.

Describes 40 exemplary cooperative programs between community colleges and business and industry, outlines the benefits and problems of these programs, and sketches general concerns about their expansion within the colleges. The monograph also contains contact names, addresses, and telephone numbers, and offers a comprehensive bibliography. 1171

Community College Centers for Contracted Programs.

James R. Mahoney, 1982. $6.

As the sequel to Shoulders to the Wheel, this publication focuses on 15 model administrative units already established on community college campuses to coordinate and expand contract programs with business/industry and other community groups. The monograph summarizes center characteristics and outlines the implementation and operation recommendations and advice collected from center directors. 1228

Employee Training for Productivity.

Roger Yarrington, editor, 1980. $5.

A report of the 1980 Wingspread conference on industry-education cooperation for increasing productivity through employee training. Cosponsors were AACJC, the American Vocational Association, and the American Society for Training and Development. Included in this book are background papers and further recommendations for a national policy on human resource development. 1023

History

The Community College in America: A Short History.

George B. Vaughan, 1985. $6 each; $5 each on bulk orders (10 or more copies).

A popular item, previously released under the Pocket Reader Series and now revised, this book is a succinct historical outline of the significant events, developments, and people of the community college movement in America. An ideal primer for acquainting new staff, board members, students, and supportive businesses with the philosophy behind what makes this institution — the community, technical, or junior college — work, and work well. 1414

Video

Opportunity With Excellence.

1984. $40 purchase; $20 rent.

A 30-minute videotape of a presentation by AACJC President Dale Parnell to the community colleges of Connecticut, focusing on the mission and philosophy of community colleges. Released through the courtesy of the Board of Trustees of the Regional Community Colleges of Connecticut, and available for rent or purchase. CJC6

Note: A telephone hookup between subscribers and the president is feasible in order to personalize the showing of this tape. Requests for such a presentation should be directed to the president's office (202/293-7050).

Forthcoming

Four Modules in Small Business.

1985. $95.

Companion to the Small Business Courses for Older Americans, and including Instructor's Guide and Student Handbook in a handsome three-ring binder, this publication covers four in-depth, stand-alone courses of instruction focusing on developing self-employment skills (e.g., business planning, break-even analysis); developing ownership skills (success characteristics, decision-making skills); marketing management; and capital management. 1406

Can a College Offer Opportunity and Excellence? Tough Questions About Community, Technical, and Junior Colleges.

Dale Parnell, 1985. $6 each; $5 each on bulk orders (10 or more copies).

By their very mission, community, technical, and junior colleges offer opportunity to persons of all walks of life. It is the responsibility of each college, however, to see to it that every student is getting the best educational programming in his or her drive to succeed. In this monograph AACJC President Dale Parnell explores the ways colleges can serve students effectively and help them to achieve their goals by offering opportunity with excellence. In addition, Parnell answers some of the more frequently raised questions concerning these colleges. This publication is a must for new faculty, new board members, and all others who want to gain a better understanding of America's community, technical, and junior colleges. 1422

The Articulation/Transfer Phenomenon: Patterns and Directions.

Frederick C. Kintzer and James L. Wattenbarger, 1985. $10.

This latest edition in the Horizons Issues Monograph Series, now under new format, presents a concise review of trends and future directions in the articulation and transfer of students from two-year colleges to other segments of higher education. Individual chapters examine 1) reasons for the declining proportion of transfer students at community colleges and available evidence of the persistence and performance of these students at senior institutions; 2) statewide articulation and transfer agreements; 3) articulation and transfer between institutions of higher education in foreign countries; and 4) factors affecting the future of articulation and transfer including encouragements and constraints, transfer of credit for experiential or prior learning, and the increased demand for articulation relationships with business and industry, proprietary schools, and the military. 1449

American Attitudes Toward Community, Technical, and Junior Colleges.

James R. Mahoney, editor, 1985. $10.

The results of a national opinion poll conclusively show that community colleges are held in high regard by a majority of Americans and that they are seen as a significant exception to the alarming increase in the cost of higher education in the U.S. Among the survey's findings are that the public supports increased federal aid for colleges and universities and more low-interest loans to college students; the public is quite satisfied with the high quality of instruction at community, technical, and junior colleges, and feels that two-year colleges provide a sound education at a low or reasonable cost; and the public believes that an associate degree is useful to get a job that requires some expertise or training and that it is helpful in aiding a student to transfer to a four-year college or university. This publication contains excerpts from the complete survey and emphasizes those findings that are relevant to two-year colleges. The survey was conducted by Group Attitudes Corporation and cosponsored by AACJC, the College Board, and Council for Advancement and Support of Education. 1457

Associate Degree Preferred.

Dale Parnell, editor, 1985. $15.

This monograph examines the associate degree from several perspectives. Foremost is the Association's policy statement on the associate degree, supplemented by AACJC President Dale Parnell's view of the meaning and value of the degree, and results of a survey of community college leaders about the degree. This publication also includes a case study of College of DuPage's program to upgrade its associate degree offerings, and the full text of Leslie Koltai's Redefining the Associate Degree, released in 1984 as a separate publication. 1465

International Trade Education: Issues and Programs.

James R. Mahoney, editor, 1985. $10.

A collection of brief essays written by university and college educators that focus on the paramount issues in international trade education and on selected college programs that address the issues. The 14 essayists represent an assortment of postsecondary institutions—graduate institutions, four-year colleges, and two-year colleges—and a variety of disciplines—business, communications, languages, social science, management, and international studies. The common thesis of these essays is that postsecondary institutions have a responsibility to provide business and industry executives with educational resources to permit them to conduct business abroad successfully, because the economic well-being of the nation depends on improving U.S. balance-of-trade records. 1473

In Search of Community College Partnerships.

1985. $9.

Directory of Business/Industry Coordinators.

1985. $6.

Keeping America Working: Profiles in Partnerships.

1985. $15.

Findings from a survey conducted by Philip Day, for the AACJC/ACCT Keeping America Working task force, substantiate the belief that community, technical, and junior colleges are playing an increasingly important role in the nation's economic development program. For example, two thirds of the respondents said they participate in private industry councils; 80 percent reported some type of participation with local or state economic development offices. Articulation agreements between community colleges and high schools were also examined in this survey. Nearly nine out of ten respondents said they have developed some type of collaborative arrangements with area high schools, but only 29 percent reported any program articulation efforts with high schools. The full results of Day's study will be included in a three-part compendium. The first book, In Search of Community College Partnerships (1481), will contain the basic body of the research along with analysis and implications. The second book, Directory of Business/College Coordinators (149X), will be a listing of the business/industry contacts (name, address, phone number) responding to the Day study, and will include an analysis of the demographics as well. Keeping America Working: Profiles in Partnerships (1503), the third book, will focus on approximately 70 respondents to an additional survey, expanding upon the data collected and presenting a more in-depth analysis of programs, integrity, and structure surrounding partnership initiatives.
